

Early childhood autism services in the comfort of your home

If your child has recently been diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) and a professional has referred your child to therapy, then you may be wondering which therapy service provider is best for your family.

While there are many options available to you, choose a provider that uses proven therapy strategies, and who you and your child are comfortable with. And the earlier you start, the better off your child will be.

We'd like to help.

Opya is the only autism therapy service provider that specializes in early intervention autism behavioral therapies, delivers care in the comfort of your own home, and provides an easy-to-use app that effortlessly connects you with your care team.

Parents are likely to refer us to a friend more than 90% of the time.

Early intervention ABA therapy in your home

Very young children with autism have different needs than adolescents and teens. That is why at Opya we specialize in early childhood autism therapy.

Our primary therapy model is Applied Behavior Analysis, or ABA, which research has shown can have the best results especially if therapy is started when your child is between 18 months and 5 years of age.

We provide ABA therapy in your home so our therapists can connect with your child in their natural environment and work on important life skills. To us, home is the optimal place for very young children to receive therapy because it is safe and comfortable, and we can best prepare the child to appropriately transition to new care settings like elementary school.

Connectivity makes all the difference

The HIPAA-compliant Opya App streamlines information sharing between our clinicians and parents. Parents love the Opya App because they can track progress, inquire about clinical goals, and seamlessly communicate with their care team.

Respecting your child as an individual

Every child with autism has different strengths and challenges, which is why our therapies are individualized to meet your child’s unique needs. In addition to personalized ABA therapy, we provide speech and occupational therapy via telehealth for your child. Our services also include regular parent and family training to ensure the entire team is working to optimize your child’s development.

Great care starts with great clinicians

To give you and your child the best care possible, we only hire compassionate individuals that want to make a positive difference in children’s lives. We provide these clinicians with highly specialized training to be experts in pediatric autism care. To ensure the best care without overloading our team, we limit our BCBA caseloads to 5-10 clients at a time versus the industry standard of 20+.

“We have an awesome ABA behavioral therapist at Opya who works with our whole family, not just our child. He realizes my son doesn’t live in a vacuum and creates opportunities that include everyone.”
